➤ Bihar constitutes 'Rhino Task Force' to revive rhino conservation in Valmiki Tiger Reserve

The Bihar government will set up a 'Rhino Task Force' to propose measures to restart the rhino conservation plan in 'Valmiki Tiger Reserve' (VTR) located in West Champaran district.

An Overview of the News

- The VTR has seen a significant increase in the tiger population, prompting state wildlife officials to focus on reviving the rhino population in the region.
- At present, VTR has only one rhino, while Patna Zoo has 14 rhinos. With the formation of a 'rhino task force', officials aim to bring more rhinos back into the reserve.

Valmiki Tiger Reserve selected for National Rhino Conservation Plan:

- Valmiki Tiger Reserve has been selected as a potential site under the National Rhino Conservation Plan.
- This national level scheme allows rhinos to be introduced into Valmiki Tiger Reserve from other reserves across the country to boost their conservation.

Committee Recommendations Lead to Formation of 'Rhino Task Force':

- A committee was set up about two years ago to evaluate the habitat and security conditions in Valmiki Tiger Reserve.

- The main objective of the committee was to assess the feasibility and potential challenges of reintroducing rhinos to the reserve.
- Based on the recommendations and findings of the report of the committee, a 'Rhino Task Force' is being formed.

The revitalization plan Aims to Expand Rhino-Bearing Areas in VTR:

- The reintroduction plan aims to increase the areas within the Valmiki Tiger Reserve where rhinos can thrive.
- The goal is to expand rhinoceros-bearing areas by about 5% over the next two years.
- This includes strategic relocation of rhinos from congested habitats to identified locations within the reserve, such as Ganauli and Madanpur, to provide more space for breeding and population growth.

India's Vital Role in One-Horned Rhino Conservation:

- India plays a critical role in the conservation of the one-horned rhinoceros species.
- Approximately 75% of the world's rhino population is found in India.
- Notably, over 93% of India's rhino population resides in just one protected area, the Kaziranga National Park in the state of Assam.
- This highlights India's significant responsibility in safeguarding and preserving the endangered one-horned rhinoceros for its global conservation efforts.

About Valmiki Tiger Reserve

- It is located in the West Champaran district of Bihar and was established in 1990 as the 18th Tiger Reserve. It covers a core area of 909.86 km² within the Valmiki Sanctuary.
- Valmiki Tiger Reserve has seen a significant increase in tiger population, which ranks fourth in tiger density. From 31 tigers recorded in 2018, the reserve sees a significant increase to 54 tigers in 2022, representing a 75% increase in numbers.
- In the last four years, there has been an impressive addition of 23 tigers to the reserve, further boosting conservation efforts.
- The successful increase in the number of tigers in Valmiki Tiger Reserve has prompted the Bihar government to take action. He has initiated the process of developing the 'Kaimur Wildlife Sanctuary (KWC)' into another tiger reserve or 'tiger-bearing landscape' within the state.

➤ Cabinet okays draft telecom, postal bills

The Union Cabinet has cleared the Draft Indian Telecommunications Bill, 2022 and Postal Services Bill, 2023.

What is Draft Indian Telecommunications Bill, 2022?

The Bill consolidates three separate acts that govern the telecommunications sector — Indian Telegraph Act 1885, Indian Wireless Telegraphy Act 1933, and The Telegraph Wires, (Unlawful Protection) Act 1950.

What are the key provisions of the Bill?

Inclusion of OTTs in the definition of Telecommunications services: The Bill proposes to bring over-the-top (or OTT) communications services such as WhatsApp, Telegram, satellite-based communication services and the internet into the definition of telecommunication services.

– So, OTT communication services have to take a license now and be subjected to the same conditions governing telecom players in India, like the quality of service and security rules, etc.

Assigning of Spectrum: The Bill laid down a clear statutory framework and regulations on assigning spectrum. It says spectrum should primarily be given through auction.

– For specific functions related to the government and public interest like defence, transportation and research, the Bill proposes assignment through the administrative process.

Right of Way (ROW): The Bill tries to achieve through law a 'right of way' (ROW) enforceable at the state- and at the municipal-corporation level.

– It lays down a framework in which a public entity that owns the land has to grant 'right of way' permission expeditiously unless it gives a substantive ground for refusal.

Cyber Security: To prevent cyber fraud, the Bill provides that the identity of the person sending a message through telecom services shall be available to a user receiving it.

What is the Postal Services Bill, 2023?

The Bill seeks to replace the Indian Post Office Act of 1898, which governs the functioning of post offices in the country.

The bill is aimed at bringing significant reforms in postal services.

The bill seeks to revamp the postal department, especially its parcel services, making them competitive with private players to generate revenue.

It also seeks to enhance financial services in rural areas through the postal system.

Significance of the bill: At a time the postal department is facing several challenges from private players in the areas of dominance, the proposed new postal bill may help in revitalizing the department as well as its officials in scripting new success stories in the days to come.
